Postscript.

This is the postscript, but before that, please listen to my thoughts regarding Omegaverse. There's something I've always wondered about: Do they produce breast milk?! I'm sorry. You have my deepest apologies. This winter I've mostly been thinking about breast milk and space. You know, I think they probably can(?). They should be able to, right(?). They're still a living being, after all(?).

That means that, at the very least, before and after childbirth there will be some kind of breast-like gland there, and the pelvis outlet will also widen. And you know what, after I'd thought about all of this, I realised just how illicit everything about this is. There's a lot of affinity for BL and Omegaverse, but the second I dug deeper into it, it became this thing that felt extremely close to being taboo. It's as if a romance that should have been above genders as a BL story is instead being bound by the rules of "biological sex". This is just me, but I was extremely troubled; Should I, or should I not write about this immense dilemma?

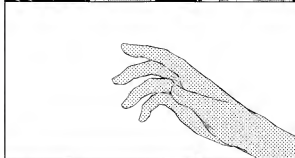

I thought a lot about things like "This isn't something you should write about" or "You're supposed to do this", and I started questioning my own unknown sense of what was "right". But wait, "right"? Right....

As I thought, shouldn't they be able to produce breast milk?!

Even if it's unrealistic, when I look in the perspective of my characters as I see them, something within me just wanted to deny that gender role. Things like breast milk and male pregnancy might not be something that everyone is comfortable with, but as I wrote this last original story, I was having so much fun that I couldn't help myself. I really really just enjoyed writing this manga so much. ...Even though I couldn't bring myself to draw the actual breasts.

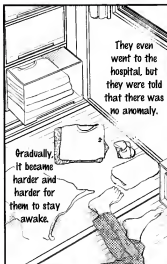

*In conclusion, they can produce breast milk, probably.
Thank you very much for your attention.*

Gusari.

In our family,
there's no mom.

They even went to the hospital, but they were told that there was no anomaly.

Gradually, it became harder and harder for them to stay awake.

My mother collapsed right after giving birth to me.

After that, they came back as if nothing happened, but spent more and more of her time spacing out.

Grandma and Grandpa also live nearby.

Let's go fishing!

Want me to make you some food?

So it hasn't been all that hard.

It turned out to be a rare medical disorder that affected male omegas.

In order to receive medical treatments not yet licensed in our country, my mother went overseas.

Don't play with your phone while you're eating!

Ever since then, I've been living with my father.

Until one day, when, out of the blue, I met my "Mother".

AND NOW I DON'T HAVE MY KEYS.

I LOST MY BAGGAGE AT THE AIRPORT,

This person is my mom?

This person??

SORRY, BUT CAN YOU-

HELLO
THERE.

WHO ARE YOU?

YOU'RE DISGUSTING.

DISGUSTING.

DISGUSTING.

That face like he doesn't know
what year it is.

He looked a little sleepy.

I'M NOT SULKING, IDIOT.

HOW LONG
DO YOU PLAN
ON SULKING
LIKE THAT?

OI.

I TOLD YOU OKAWA WAS COMING HOME
TODAY.

Why did I say it anyway?

Because he's a male omega?

I said something so awful to someone that I just met.

...BUT IT'S NOT THAT UNUSUAL.

RATHER THAN THAT,
IT'S JUST THAT,
I KIND OF KNEW,
SOMEHOW.

I'm probably an omega too.

UH...
MORE LIKE, LOOK.

MIGHT BE NONE OF MY BUSINESS, BUT...

AND HERE'S THE PERSON I REALLY DON'T WANT TO MEET!

...WHAT'S WITH THIS HAT
SO LAME.

And why a hat?

HUH? WELL, I WAS HELPING MY FAMILY OUT
IN THE FIELD...

PANIC...

AND IT'S NOT LIKE THERE'S MUCH I CAN DO
EVEN IF I'M HERE.

I DIDN'T VISIT TO TRY AND ACT LIKE YOUR MOTHER AFTER ALL THIS TIME.

Chin Chin...

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WALK AROUND WITH SUCH A GLOOMY FACE.

IT'S ALRIGHT.

HUH?

BYE THEN,
YOU HAVE CRAM SCHOOL IN A BIT, RIGHT?

TAKE CARE.

THREE

I WAS PLANNING TO GO BACK
LATER TODAY,
SO...

STING

FINDS YOU SO ADORABLE, HE CAN'T HELP HIMSELF.

And the rare
medical disorder that affects such male omegas...

Dad told me,

that Oikawa Tooru was a rare
case of an omega
who got pregnant without having a mate.

and took the gamble of joining a medical trial
held overseas.

Thought of all the possible ways that would allow him to live with his baby.

How, when I was 3, he took me to meet my mother,

and my mother cried.

He went on to tell me things he's never told me before.

HE'S ALWAYS SO, SO HAPPY WHENEVER

HE RECEIVES PHOTOGRAPHS OF YOU.

HE MADE A RULE THAT ONLY I WOULD WRITE LETTERS TO HIM,

SO THAT HE COULD READ THEM
WHEN HE WAS AWAKE.

That when I was 6, my mother came to see me,

and I, saying he was some old man that I didn't know, cried.

HE TOLD ME THAT I DIDN'T NEED TO TALK ABOUT HIM,

NOR TO ASK TO.

...AND AFTER THAT,

IT HURTS.

"I'M GOING BACK ALREADY."

IT'S SO LONELY.

A ring with the same design as Dad's.

The pained expression of someone watching something dazzling.

The same...

...while being alone across the sea.
